

ESCAPABLE IN PEACE AS WELL AS WAR

Some Jobs at Which American Women Are Successful

Miss Fay Kellogg is a successful New York architect. Her specialty is designing comfortable houses from a woman's viewpoint. Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Mrs. Hugh L. Scott, wife of Major-Gen. Scott, Chief of Staff of the Army, is one of the leading advocates of preparedness for women in the event of war.

At the left—Dr. Anna Tjomsland is the only woman ambulance surgeon in the history of Bellevue Hospital. She answers all emergency calls, and this picture was taken while her ambulance was out at a fire. Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

"The reason firm, the temperate will,
Endurance, foresight, strength and skill;
A perfect woman, nobly planned,
To warn, to comfort and command."

—William Wordsworth

...t of a work in England. This 15-
Smiley won a championship at
Photo from Janet M. Cummings.

Women "clay washers" of Cornwall, Eng. The industry is a very ancient one. The clay is washed down by powerful streams, refined, dried and used in pottery manufacture. Photo by Central News Photo Service

The employment of women as conductresses on the London buses led to the innovation of a comfortable seat at the back. This girl may now rest as she works.

Photo from Janet M. Cummings.